Stults Building (TAC-35)

Built 1895, this two-story coursed and uncoursed stone building with brick side walls with metal parapet cornice has segmental arched windows on the second floor. The building originally housed J. "Jack" S. Stults Dry Goods. Pruitt, Wilkerson & Co. General Store was in the building in 1909, possibly a general store. Tom Taylor ran a business here which later moved and became Taylor, Pruitt & Jarvis. Norman Hobson moved into the building circa 1910 and ran a grocery store which burned in the 1911 fire. Hobson sold the grocery store to Clarence Hartfield in 1912. Campbellsville Barber Shop followed. In 1954, the building housed King's Department Store. Between the 1960s and 1990s it was Winn's Store for Men. The Twisted Stem occupied the building until 2012. Dr. Richard Allen Sanders, I, and Richard Allen Sanders, II, had their dental offices upstairs in this building. Currently the building is being renovated.
